

GLAMORGAN (WEST), WALES

About the School

Spread over four sites, this impressive college boasts a plethora of courses to suit all student needs. On the southern coast of Wales where the sea meets the shore, this college is one of the leading A Level colleges in the UK and the leading college in Wales, supplying universities with their next generation of go-getters.

In 2019, 90% of the international students went on to Russell Group universities, such as Oxford and Cambridge after completing their A-Level courses at this college. This accolade speaks for itself! International students are proven achievers and this is partly due to the detailed support package that is specifically tailored for them.

The college has invested in their buildings and facilities to create inspiring learning spaces and enhance the student experience. Each site is equipped with innovative technology making studying at the college effortless.

Location Information

The city is surrounded by a beautiful coastline that stretches around the southern coast of Wales. It boasts the best of both worlds with its idyllic beaches and city centre shopping, there is something for everyone.
